PRO CO

IRACK

PRO CO IPOD®/MP3 INTERFACES The iFace allows connection of the stereo headphone outputs of MP3 players, Apple iPods, laptops, or consumer CD players to balanced microphone inputs of audio mixing consoles. It has both a stereo 1/8" and recessed left/right RCA phono inputs, and a mono switch to provide passive input summing to dual-mono output where required. Outputs are on 3-pin male XLR connectors. A ground lift switch allows correct grounding for AC or battery powered sources, and eliminates hum. The iRack is a 1RU version of the iFace and shares many of the same features, although it does have barrier strip output connections rather than 3-pin male XLR. The iPlate is a dual-gang wallplate version of the iRack.
